Software for employee management, timetable planning, shifts and working days

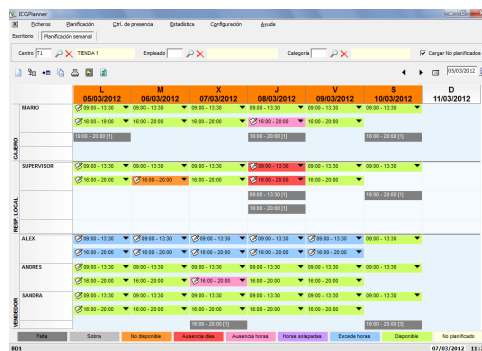

ICG Planner has been designed to serve one of the most important requirements that have all the companies which their common characteristic is the work schedules, employee management and shifts planning.

ICGPlanner helps with the creation of weekly shifts, defining the daily availability and the category of each one of the employees, and optimizes the staff according to the sales volume or the timetable.

Also enables the holidays registrations, personal days and the time off work due to illness or any other reason. Thereby, at the time to prepare a new planning, ICGPlanner notifies graphically and visually on the calendar those employees that cannot accomplish with the planned timetable and makes easy the search of substitutes before any time off work or last hour incidence.

ICGPlanner includes a very powerful statistic module:

- 1 For the printing of the planning done per center or employee.
- 2 For the deviations analysis between the planned timetable and the worked hours.
- 3 For the incidences and time off work management.

“ICGPlanner can be used by any company or business, independently of the working centers that has, because it consolidates the information of all centers of a company”
